Many dialysis centres off post transplant support. Kidney dialysis users who go on to have a transplant still need help - having a transplant can be an emtionally, physically and mentallly draining time.

If you have had a transplant make sure that you discuss support options available through your centre of visit the post transplant support section in the Global Dialysi Forum.